Muroran's history

In the latter half of the 19th century, the city prospered as a port, shipping coal from the Sorachi region. It became a city of manufacturing due to its developed steel industry in the 20th century. Although it's currently known worldwide as an industrial city, with a little bit of perspective change, it becomes a rare place in Japan with rich nature created by volcanoes that erupted long ago. It has recently gained much attention due to its attraction as a photographic subject utilizing unique topography and history including a factory night view, locations for filming movies, and so on. There's a unique cuisine only available in Muroran, including "Muroran Yakitori" and "Curry Ramen," as well as a variety of gifts and souvenirs rich in regional colors. In addition, a lot of the enjoyment of this city will be revealed through many activities for visitors such as a tour menu whereby tourists can participate and get hands-on experience in making things.

Let's departure right after finding out where to go and what to eat! We've prepared not only wide-area maps but also big-size maps convenient for walking. Let's go now!

01 NATURE

Fully pleased with sightseeing, photographing and playing

Experience one of the best nature in Japan!

The terrain, born by the ancient submarine volcano rising, curves to hollow out the ocean. The nature of this topography, the sea with dolphins or whales, familiar mountains and steep cliffs in coexistence with the industrial port area make Muroan become a rare city in Japan. Please experience the nature that you like by enjoying "Dolphins watching tour" with a high possibility to encounter, the nationally designated place of scenic beauty Pirikanoka which reserves places named in Ainu language to pass them on to the future, the eight Muroan picturesque sceneries, and so on.

You must see the eight Muroan picturesque sceneries!

1 The night view of Muroan port

The scenery created by the light of the illumination of Hakucho bridge and the factory group is unusual beauty

2 The view from Mt. Sokuryo

If the weather is nice, you can also see remote Mt. Yotei and Mt. Komagatake, 360° panorama view spots.

3 Black lily Bloom Daikokujima

There is a legend that black lilies began to bloom like mourning a navy sailor who lost his life in this place.

4 A scenery of Cape Etomo

From the observatory which modeled on the bow of a sailboat, tourists can overlook Funka Bay. The name "Etomo" is derived from the Ainu word of "Etumuf" which means "cape".

5 Precipitous cliffs of Kinbyobu and Ginbyobu

A scenic view was created by upright rocks. Kinbyobu is gold in the morning sun and Ginbyobu shines silver with the sunset.

6 The outside sea view of Masuichi seashore

"Masuichi" means house of the black-tailed gulls (Masu-Chise) in the Ainu language. There're massive rocks of unusual shapes such as a candle shaped rock.

7 Superb view of Cape Chikyu

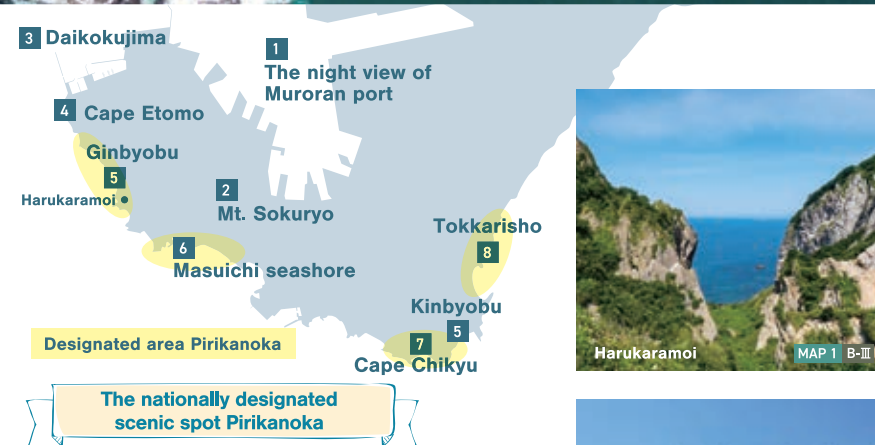

The contrast between the blue of the sea and the whiteness of the lighthouse is beautiful. This scenic spot was selected as one of a number of "Japan's best".

8 Beauty of Tokkarisho

The natural sculpture created by the waves slowly eroded the 100-meter height rocks raised by the volcano is the breathtaking beauty.

★ Designated area Pirikanoka

Pass on the sensitivity of the indigenous Ainu people to the future

There are lots of scenic spots with the names derived from Ainu language in Hokkaido! A scenic spot with a scenic landscape like this is protected as a national designated scenic spot with the generic name of "Pirikanoka", which means "beautiful and shaped" in Ainu language. In Muroan the four locations located on the coast of Etomo peninsula including Harukaramoi, Masuichi seashore, Cape Chikyu, and Tokkarisho seashore have been designated to be a part of Pirikanoka. Let's check the web to find more about the origins of various place names!

02 NIGHT VIEW

Beginning with magical hours of the twilight

Watching the shining night view and lighting up!

Muroran gradually changes its appearance when the first star appears to greet the twilight. The factory night view sparkling with millions of lights in factories surrounding the port centering on the city's landmark of Hakucho bridge is now a new symbol of Muroran that appeals to visitors from all over the country. Enjoying lighting up and factory night view at the same time is a big feature of Muroran night view.

The night view of Muroran is amazing here!

Lighting up of Mt. Sokuryo which has been continuous every day since 1988 and the illumination of Hakucho bridge celebrating the 20th anniversary is the night view familiar to Muroran citizens. Moreover, the beauty of the factory night view has recently gained more attention. Actually, most of the sparkles are safety lights for the people working in the factory. It is a unique scenery that's only in Muroran where the industry has developed thanks to its good natural port since ancient times. It's even more unusual beauty when flare stacks burn extra gas generated from the factories. Cooperating with cities which have factory nightscapes throughout the country, Muroran's factory night view is now so popular that many tourists visit the town to see it.

The two lighting up in Muroran

Mt. Sokuryo

The light-up of the six electromagnetic towers shining colorful is to wish for the activities of the town. It's the original landscape of Muroran citizens which have been lighted for more than 10,000 days by donations from citizens and companies.

Hakucho bridge

It is the largest suspended bridge in the east of Japan that opened in 1998, with a total length of 1,380 m, very near Muroran port. It shines white with light up from sunset to 0 o'clock. In 2008, it was selected as "A night view inheritance of Japan".

1 Shukuzu Park observatory

You can see Hakucho bridge extending from a spiral road called "spiral" to the opposite shore.

2 Mt. Sokuryo observatory

Since the mountain is on a high location in the city and the summit is at an altitude of about 200 meters, it's clear to see the night view of Muroran including the factories in the south.

3 Shioimi Park observatory

It's possible to see Hakucho bridge in the back of the factory night view of Nippon Steel Corp. from the parking lot. * Please be careful when going to the top of the mountain.

03 GOURMET

Attracted to well-known restaurants loved by local people

This is Muroran's taste
Satisfying with two great specialties!

A delicious gourmet at a traveling destination is one of the great traveling pleasures. Is it better to try Muroran specialties of "Muroran Yakitori" and "Muroran Curry Ramen" or dare to try famous shops where local people usually use instead of the specialties?

Muroran Yakitori

Pork is used instead of poultry. This mysterious "Yakitori" appeared around 1930. Using pork that was easier to get than chicken meat and onions that were easy to get in Hokkaido at the time, it has become soul food of Muroran citizens which has supported the stomachs of workers working in the iron city. It's served mainly at yakitori restaurants and pubs at dinner time and at lunchtime in only some restaurants.

Three major features!

- ① Grilled "Pork" instead of chicken
- ② Onion instead of long onion
- ③ Elegantly prepared as you like

Muroran Curry Ramen

"Muroran Curry Ramen" is a new classic noodle in Hokkaido aiming for the fourth taste following miso, salt, and soy sauce. Although there are various opinions about its origin, it is a gourmet specialty on the menu of ramen shops in the city for about 30 years loved by citizens for many years. The individuality of each restaurant stands out also in soup, noodles and spicy. The more you eat, the more delicious it becomes. Please try it!

Also pay attention to the fresh seafood that can be enjoyed the port!

Though Muroran is famous for the image of the iron industry city, "Funka Bay" is one of a few fishing grounds in Hokkaido. Muroran is also a fishing port city where seventy percent of fish species that can be taken in Hokkaido are caught such as large scallops and Black rockfish designated as city fish. There are of course not only sushi and sashimi restaurants but also restaurants serving Western dishes such as well as Italian dishes in the city!

Seasonal seafood is fished season by season.

Please try the unique brand of Ransen scallops.

You can taste different seasonal seafood depending on the time of your visit because various fish are picked up every season. Types of righteye flounder such as souhachi-flounder, rough scale sole, and kurogasira are particularly abundant. Barfin flounder that's also known as the "king of flounder" has recently become more and more popular. It's easy to get even rare fish on the market such as blowfish and smooth lumpsucker in Muroran. Please enjoy delicious seafood at any restaurant in Muroran by all means.

Other Muroran gourmets

If you want to enjoy the original taste of the ingredient, let's try the fresh seafood of classic sashimi.

Sushi shining skills of the chef which is even new to the eyes is the art of food culture that Japan boasts of the world.

"Tendon" which fresh seafood tempura is served over a bowl of rice with sweet and spicy sauce is appetizing.

There're restaurants offering traditional Japanese cuisine making use of the seasonal mountain and ocean blessing.

There are also popular Western food restaurants famous for pasta and pizza making use of the ingredients in the surrounding area.

It's easy to find out quickly information about restaurants offering delicious food in Muroran.

Check the "OTTO! MURORAN" website to find out gourmet information!
